CARNIVAL IN FEBRUARY AT OLD MCGILL

Ski Club Meeting Yesterday Fixed Date.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

Detailed Programme for Intercollegiate Meet Here Announced.

The McGill Ski Club met for the first time this season in the Union at 5.15 yesterday. There were about sixty members present, and much important business was transacted.

The meeting came to order with the President, W. K. Rutherford, in the chair. After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the last meeting general business was taken up. The constitution was amended to abolish the membership fee by unanimous vote, and also to allow for the appointment of an honorary president.

The President then outlined the activities of the club for the coming season. He pointed out the necessity for having a good manager and advised every one to consider carefully as to who would be the best man for the position. Bulmer Rutherford was chosen to fill the position. The club is indeed fortunate in having him as its manager. He has had vast experience in college and athletic affairs and is an ideal man for the office. As manager he becomes chairman of the committee, and his place on it was filled by H. Wilden.

The date for the carnival was fixed for Friday and Saturday, February 25th and 26th, and this will be a gala-week for McGill. On Friday the 25th, the cross-country runs will be held, and a proficiency test and probably a ski-joring contest will take place. In the evening, the McGill Ski Club dance will be run off in the Union and the guests of the evening will be the members of the American teams competing in the Carnival. On Saturday morning the (Continued on Page 4.)

PRESBYTERIANS AGAIN VICTORS

Defeat Congregationals in Decisive Game by Score of 26-21.

In a fast and exciting game last evening, the Presbyterian Basketball team defeated their proverbial rivals, the Congregationals, by the close score of 26-21. Although after the first few minutes of play there was not much doubt in the minds of the spectators as to the final outcome of the match, yet the losers played hard at all times and were always dangerous. The result of the game practically assures the Presbyterians of the winning of the first half of the series, as they do not expect to have much difficulty in disposing of the Wesleyan outfit, who are far below their usual form this year, and have not thus far won a game. At the beginning of the season it was generally conceded that the contest lay between last night's players. The outcome of the game was no surprise to those who have been following the league, but there were many who thought that the Congregationals had a good chance to win if they could only manage to keep Amaron in check. Bronson, who had this most difficult task, worked hard at his job, but did not prevent Amaron from scoring eighteen points for his team.

The Congregationals drew first blood when Smith tallied on a long shot. Hutton quickly evened up the score, and Amaron put the Presbyterians in the lead, which they kept throughout by a nicely placed foul throw. Soon after he scored again on a neat shot, while Avison duplicated the feat in quick succession. From this time until the end of the period the play was very close, any score by one team being soon equalled by a like count by the other. In the last couple of minutes, however, the Presbyterians ran away with their opponents, and the half ended with the score 19-10.

The Congos started out in the second period with a rush, and quickly added three points to their score. The Presbyterians evened up on this rush, but on the whole play of the second half their adversaries

RACIAL CLASH SUBJECT FOR HISTORY CLUB

Second Meeting at 8.00 p.m. To-Morrow.

STRATHCONA HALL.

C. Mackenzie and H. Cousens Will Deal With Highly Explosive Subject.

The Historical Club is holding its second meeting of the year to-morrow night at 8 p.m. in Strathcona Hall. The subject for discussion is "Race Conflicts." Papers will be read by Messrs. C. Mackenzie and H. Cousens. Mr. Mackenzie will speak on the conflict between the white and yellow races, and Mr. Cousens will deal with the white and black races.

This is a subject which has attracted considerable attention of late, owing to the recent race riots in the United States and Australia against the Chinese and Japs. It will be interesting to learn the history of these long-standing conflicts and discuss the possible means of remedy. A great deal of thought has been given to the problem of the "Yellow Peril," as it is called by those who wish to reserve the Western countries for the white race. Many different opinions are held regarding it, but as yet no generally accepted solution has been reached.

The race conflicts of the whites and blacks in the United States, and in Africa also, furnish abundant food for reflection. What means shall be taken to remedy the smouldering enmity which is constantly felt where these races come into contact, and from time to time breaks out into riots and bloodshed?

The different phases of both these conflicts will be dealt with at the meeting to-morrow night. Members are urged to be on hand at 8 o'clock sharp in order that there may be no delay in starting.

managed to cut down their lead by four points. The Congregationals tried desperately to tie the score, but the Presbyterians played on the defensive and ended the game five points ahead.

Amaron, of course, was the outstanding player on the floor. For the losers, Bronson played the best basketball. Sanders furnished a hot game and played exceedingly well for his size, often blocking the much larger players opposed to him.

The teams lined up as follows:
Presbyterians: Hutton, forward; Sanders, forward; Centre; Bronson, forward; R. defence; Smith, forward; L. defence; Whitmore, forward; Spare; Somerville, forward; Spare; Eddy, forward.

THE ANNUAL.

MCGILL "Y" GIVES DANCE TO RESIDENTS

Forty Couples Spend Enjoyable Evening.

FIRST OF ITS KIND.

Splendid Orchestra, Good Floor, Fine Refreshments Feature at Function.

To say that last night's dance given by the Y.M.C.A. to the residents of Strathcona Hall was a ripping success is to put it very mildly indeed, for from 8.30 until midnight, all present enjoyed themselves exceedingly. The dance was in charge of the House Committee, who have spent much time to make this new function at the Hall such a rousing success, especially A. Glen and the resident secretary.

The music was supplied by Miss McLean's orchestra of four pieces. Too much cannot be said in praising the splendid playing of this orchestra, which greatly helped to make the evening so pleasant.

The dance was graced by the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Birkett, Mrs. T. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. McKay, who very kindly acted as chaperons.

This is one of the very few social entertainments of its kind ever held at the McGill "Y," and every student residing in Strathcona Hall appreciated to the fullest this extremely successful and popular entertainment.

The ladies present included: Misses Wilcocks, Smith, Imrie, Clark, Foster, Glassford, Carpenter, Basken, Pratt, Urnston, Hebert, Bernard, F. Banfill, V. Eakin, Whimby, MacKenzie, Sharples, Campbell, Davidson, Beckwith, Brown, Urnston, Leggatt, Paddon, Bagley, MacLaren, Featherston, Garth, Cairn, McConnell, Bangster, Hamilton.

'VARSITY TEAM TO DEBATE HERE

Ontario Rhodes Scholar to Represent Toronto—Subject a Lively One.

McGill will make a bid for another intercollegiate championship to-morrow night in the Union, when her representatives will clash with those of Toronto, in the first of the intercollegiate debates. The McGill men, Messrs. R. Dillon, Law '21, and Rene Perrault, Science '21, will uphold the negative side of the subject: "Resolved, That military training ought to be required of the students of the Faculty of Arts in a Canadian university." Messrs. J. Stirret and Roseburgh will take the affirmative for Toronto.

The McGill men are the two most brilliant speakers who have appeared in the Literary and Debating Society this year. They were chosen by the two permanent judges, Messrs. A. Knatchbull-Hugessen and W. Chipman, who acted in the last two debates held in the Union. Dillon became quite popular by his strenuous support of the cause of the Anti-Prohibitionists in the first debate, while Perrault upheld the cause of divorce. With these two speakers and a generous turnout of the students, there can be no doubt as to the result.

Toronto has two representatives who will put up a formidable fight for their home university. Stirret, who was a member of last year's team, was chosen as this year's Rhodes Scholar for Ontario, and Roseburgh is well known in Toronto's Lit.

If McGill wins the debate, the members of the debating team will go to Kingston to argue out the championship. To-morrow night Ottawa College will debate with Queen's, while Toronto will be here. The winning teams will meet for the championship.

Several Toronto fans will accompany their team to Montreal, and a large turnout of McGill men is expected for to-morrow night. From the interest evinced in the last two debates, there is no doubt but that the hall will be crowded.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1920.

GIVE US MEN

Give us men is the prayer of the world to-day. That prayer will be answered when we have given the boys a chance. The majority must recognize that many boys are in need of help, but it is the old story of the other man. There are countless circumstances in life where it is convenient to shift the responsibility upon someone else. No fallacies are so subtle as those which insinuate themselves into our reasonings at a time when our interests are involved. When we seek to free ourselves of the burden of responsibility in any situation we must be peculiarly on our guard that we do not allow ourselves to become ensnared in the coils of plausible explanations, which, when stripped of their verbal dress appear in their nakedness as contemptible subterfuges.

There is the mistaken notion that we can escape obligations by simply not assuming them. There are certain obligations which it is not possible to refuse. We cannot say that we have no responsibilities for the conditions in which we live. Duties of such a kind are not assumed by definite choice, but belong to us whether we will or not. We must answer for our silence, for our inertia, for our ignorance, for our indifference. If the handicapped boys of the city are in need of help, it is our duty to see that they are helped.

Many sink into the fallacy of securing freedom from responsibility by the assumption of a convenient ignorance. The comforting theory is that no responsibility can be attached to a person concerning an act of which he is ignorant. This is doubtless true providing he is not purposely ignorant. A person may not be held responsible for failure to see the obvious when his eyes are shut; but he is responsible for his eyes being shut when they ought to be opened.

If any of the boys around us are in need of leaders, of men to guide them by gradual and attractive steps to a higher physical, mental, social and spiritual development, we should know it. This evening will see an opportunity in this direction. The Director of the Griffintown Boys' Club is lecturing on "The Underprivileged Boy" at a meeting of the Social Service Club. This lecture could be held under no better auspices, since this club is essentially a student organization, and is in a way unique in that it includes in its membership both men and women students. It is affiliated in no way to any organized association, but is controlled by undergraduates, and responsible to the student body. This is evidenced by the fact that the constitution of this society has been formally ratified, both by the Students' Council and by the Corporation.

DR. LINDSAY GAVE TALK TO VOLUNTEERS

Dental Mission Work in China Outlined.

WORKERS NEEDED.

Was First Dental Missionary to China—Has Accomplished Much.

The pioneer features of Dental missionary work in China were admirably described to a group of students at Strathcona Hall last night by Dr. Lindsay, the first Dental Missionary to West China.

When Dr. Lindsay was sent to the mission in Cheng Tu, thirteen years ago, his mission was an experiment which has since been fully justified. The mission church was then in a precarious condition owing to the recent disturbances and bitter distrust of foreigners, but one by one the obstacles were overcome and the missionaries soon won the confidence of the people. The speaker then described in most interesting detail, the rapid growth of the work along not only evangelistic lines but also of the erecting of schools and hospitals, and finally the big Union University, where Chinese students are being trained in practically every profession.

One interesting detail which goes to prove the success of the work was the fact that when the work had greatly outgrown the accommodation, an appeal was made to the Chinese Christians for funds to build a new church. To the great surprise of the missionaries, the sum of $5,000, a colossal sum of money in China, was realized.

The Mission is now practically self supporting, and Dr. Lindsay told of the plans now on foot for pushing the frontiers of the Church farther into the huge expanse of territory where millions are yet living in the darkness of superstition and ignorance. To carry on this work, he emphasized the need of more workers so that the work might be carried on with even greater results.

FENCERS INVITE ENGLISH TEAM

America Asks 12-Man Team To Participate in International Meet.

According to an announcement made in New York the Amateur Fencing League of America has invited England to send a team of 12 men to compete in the international tournament in this country next spring. There is every reason to believe that England will accept the invitation, as it is anxious to make up for its defeat at the hands of the American fencers in the Olympic games last summer.

The international tourney will be held in three different cities. The dueling sword competition will be staged in Washington, District of Columbia, next May, in connection with the annual horse show. The saber matches will be conducted at the Merion Cricket Club, in Philadelphia, a week after the dueling sword matches. The foil competition will be held in the Hotel Astor in this city a week later. The saber and dueling sword contests will be held outdoors.

The tournament will be for teams and not for individuals and the team that wins two of the three competitions will be awarded the bronze trophy offered by the A. F. L. A. A replica of the trophy will be given to each member of the winning team.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily,"

Dear Sir,—
It has been drawn to my attention that recently a certain section of the theological students have been endeavouring to inaugurate a so-called Undergraduate Society. In former years this has been attempted but has always died a natural death. Now, however, they have gone so far as to draw up a constitution. And if this constitution is to be the basis of the society, then it should be the policy of all right-minded theological students—and of these we know there are a great many—to stamp out this association before it has had any time to work mischief in McGill. The theological students as a whole have formerly been notorious for the lack of interest they have displayed in the activities of the University. It is but lately that they have begun to come out of their shell, as it were. But if this society were to have any existence it would put them into greater seclusion than ever.

According to the constitution, membership in the society is to be purely voluntary. But yet the society would obviously, to a certain extent, control the actions of its non-members. Those who did not wish to join would be left out of the theological activities of the logs. Surely this is a very funny state of affairs to begin with. But more than this, they have actually in an unwarranted manner had the presumption to name the association an undergraduate society—unwarranted for the reason that a great number of its members would not be undergraduates at all in the sense which the University recognizes. They are willing to accept as a member of the society any man who intends to take up theology, even though he be still in Arts, which will certainly not be tolerated by the Arts Undergraduate Society. But they are content with only this stamp of member. They will also include in the society men who have taken one course in Arts, in any year, regardless of whether he has passed his matriculation or not—and many have not—and who is taking or has taken one course in any year of theology. Surely it is had enough to be training in such an inadequate fashion the men who are to become the ministers of the gospel without styling them undergraduates. The instigators of the movement seem to have the fond idea that the University authorities will be pleased with the idea to such an extent as to hand them over one dollar per man for every member who has paid his universal fee to the College. Now, the authorities would never recognize any such society based on such a constitution. They would certainly never recognize an association which would tend to disintegrate the spirit of McGill and increase the clique spirit which is already sufficiently prevalent. The organizers may mean well, but a certain land spoken of in the Scriptures failed with good intentions. We wish to point out to them that while taking their Arts course their duty lies toward McGill and not towards their respective colleges, and that a man who has not passed his matriculation can be called an undergraduate, still less than one who is not taking a full course either in the University proper or in theology. If the society were composed solely of these men who are taking a full course in theology, then the society would have a firm basis for its foundation. But otherwise the scheme should be nipped in the bud before it has a chance to gather headway.

I would be very sorry indeed if this letter were taken to be an outburst against theological students in general, for such is by no means the case. But the purpose of the epistle is to check in time a movement which if allowed to continue would prove detrimental to the spirit of the university at large, and would be unworthy of our Alma Mater—McGill.

Yours very truly,

ANXIOUS.

DELTA SIGMA ENTERTAINED BY RIGMAROLE

Four Teams of Four Took Part.

JUNIOR TEAM WON.

Sixteen Participants From the Four Years Provided Good Entertainment.

The Delta Sigma Society held a very enjoyable meeting yesterday in the common-room. The afternoon's entertainment consisted of a "Rigmarole."

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and approved, the president, Miss Hackett, explained that four teams, composed of four girls from each year, would take part in the rigmarole. The introduction of a story was to be read to each team, and the different members of it were to carry on the tale for two minutes, extemporaneously.

The Sophomores, Misses Kerr, Freedman, Perry and Wood-Legh, were the first to come to the front and to sit on the McGill cushions around the cosy fire. There was a fairy tale, having as its usual elements a beautiful young girl, under the power of a wicked witch; a young wood-cutter, her lover, who finally rescues the heroine from the witch; and, of course, the story ending with the prospective marriage of the two young people.

The next was a story of adventure, and was told by the Freshmen, Misses McWaters, Brooks, Murray and Thomson. It was of a man and a woman who were wrecked on a desert island, and who, after many adventures, were at length rescued through the arrival of another ship.

Misses Howell, Snyder, Sharples and Newnam represented the Juniors, and told the next story. It was the romance of a young servant girl and a man who owned a motorcycle. The servant girl turned out to be the long-lost daughter of a wealthy woman. The story ended with the reunion of these two, and the mother's sanction of the marriage of her daughter and the young man.

The Senior team, made up of Misses Mathewson, Holland, Larkin and Cox, told their story last. It was a ghost story and very ghastly.

It is impossible in a few lines to give an idea of the interest these stories caused. Rapt attention was paid to every word that was uttered, and the funny little details introduced by several speakers provoked delighted laughter. Always the last speaker had the most difficult task, having to complete the story in every detail. This was done admirably in every case.

The judges were: Mrs. Irwin, Miss Newnam and Dr. MacMillan. Mrs. Irwin, who spoke on behalf of the judges, congratulated all the students who had taken part. She said that the judges had decided that the teams of the second and third years were the best. Considering the stories in detail, Mrs. Irwin said the first speaker of the Sophomores, Miss Kerr, told her part very well. She also praised the ending of the same story, for which Miss Wood-Legh was responsible. Among the Freshmen, Miss Murray, Mrs. Irwin thought, had a special gift for storytelling. She concluded her remarks by stating that the judges had decided that the Juniors were, as a team, most successful. The judges wished especially to praise Miss Sharples for her part.

Each member of the Junior team was then presented with a little leather-bound book as her prize. The meeting closed with the singing of "Hail, Alma Mater."

INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL AT R.V.C.

Sophomores Are This Year's Champions.

BRILLIANT PLAY.

Great Improvement Shown in Play.

Yesterday afternoon the R.V.C. inter-class games were again played in Moleson Hall. On the whole, the play was greatly improved, and there will be good material for the College teams. The most marked feature of the afternoon was the absence of Rooters.

The play did not start exactly on time, so that the first half of the game between the first year and Partials was cut short. During this half the first year team held the Partials very well in check. Both teams showed a good deal of improvement, the first year in particular. The defence line with M. Reid and M. McLaren was very strong, and they had a good combination with their centres, E. Baskin and M. Brooks. The score at the end of the half was one all.

Second year vs. third year commenced by fouling, which was possibly due to the inexperience of the players. Miss Laidlaw guarded very well. The Junior centre line was very good, V. Zealand and V. Foley getting splendid combination. The third year baskets were making many attempts to score. At half-time the score was 6-0 in favor of third year.

The second part of the Freshie and Partial game proved of great interest to the onlookers. The passing was greatly improved and the use of the bounce proved a great asset. Although the Partials tried again and again to score, the forwards seemed off their shot. The game ended in favor of the Freshies, 7-6.

The last half of the Soph and Junior game was not such an interesting one to watch. The continual use of the high pass and inaccurate passing was possibly the cause. The Sophs scored several goals by C. Freyvogel.

The whistle blew and the finals for the basketball championship started. Much depended on the results of the next two games. The game between the Seniors and Freshies was quite interesting, although there was quite a bit of fouling. Both the centre lines had good combination, and although the ball was often up at the Freshie end, they failed to make a score. Miss Spier made one or two very brilliant field shots for the Seniors. At half-time the score was 18-4, in favor of fourth year.

The third year then met the Sophs. The third year centre line was good, having quick combination. However, the second year also had good centres. Miss Roy failing very seldom to get the ball. Miss Newnam played an excellent game, and with Jean Henderson they made a strong defence. The forwards of third year were off the shot a little although the ball was often at their end. The half ended 8-4 in favor of second year.

The last half of the Freshie and Senior game was a cleaner game. The Seniors added greatly to their score, K. Cameron making some good shots. M. McWaters was a good guard and played an excellent game, although she was smaller than her opponent. The final score was 50-6 in favor of fourth year.

The last half for the third and second year was speedier than the first, the Junior guards working well, but were unable to prevent M. Leggatt score some brilliant field shots. The score at the end was 22-7 in favor of the Sophs, thus making them the Basketball Champions, also giving them one point towards the banner.

LARGE NUMBER TURN OUT FOR JUNIOR SQUAD

Thirty-Five Were Present—Was Good Practice.

PRACTICE FRIDAY.

Teams Will Be Chosen for First League Games on Wednesday.

The Junior Section of "B" squad held their usual basketball practice last evening. There was a very good turn-out, about thirty-five men being present. Coach Van Wagner was in charge, and after a short shooting practice he divided the men into teams. These teams were matched against each other, but no shooting was permitted at first. However, after all the teams had had several minutes of this passing practice, they were set into full action. These games were fast and hard, and as a rule remarkably close. The men now know each other, and a marked improvement is noticeable, both in shooting and passing.

The City League starts on Wednesday. This necessitates the picking of the various teams within a very short time. However, the fact of a man not making a team by next Wednesday should not stop him from coming to practices. The personnel of the teams is bound to change more or less, and there may be several vacancies during the season. These will doubtless give the hard working, faithful men a chance to make a team, even though it be later on in the season.

There are more men at present turning out for basketball than ever before. By not cutting the squads quickly, every man is being given a chance to show what he is worth, and absolutely impartiality is the motto of the men in charge. The inevitable result of this principle is that the College will have the best teams possible.

It is announced that after the various teams have been picked a manager will be elected for each team. This is a departure from the usual custom and should add to the interest of College basketball. The manager will not necessarily be a player, and will be exempted from compulsory physical education during the basketball season.

The next practice for Junior Squad will be held on Friday, at 5.15, in Moleson Hall. All out.

Don't believe all you hear, or say all you believe. A wise judgment is needed in the former case; tact in the latter.

WATER POLO FRIDAY NIGHT M.A.A.A. TANK

"Teedles" Thompson and His Rooters Will be Present.

CRUCIAL GAME.

Special Tickets for McGill Men.

The last Polo game of the Senior League, to be played on Friday night at the M.A.A.A. tank, between the senior team of McGill and M.A.A.A., promises to be exciting.

Should McGill win this game it will mean that they will be champions, but on the other hand, if they lose, it will necessitate a play-off with M.A.A.A.

It was learned that Laidley, playing senior, was sick with a cold. If unable to play, it will be a decided handicap to the team. The doctor's report is, however, favorable, and it is expected that he will play.

"Teedles" Thompson and the Rooters are to be present. It is also bruited abroad that some of our fair co-eds will be present to help cheer the team on to victory. Their presence is an undoubted asset to the team.

The proceeds of the game goes to the home team. The M.A.A.A. has, however, arranged to sell 50 rush seats to the Swimming Club at 50c each. The remaining seats will be sold at $1.00 and 75c.

The intermediates are showing fine form and hope to win their game. A win will make a three-cornered tie for the intermediate championship.

Braker, one of the best men on the intermediate team, is now ill, but will probably play. His absence would, without doubt, impair the team's efficiency.

The line-up of the teams are:
McGill: G. Vernot...Forwards...D. McGill
G. H. Flek...Forwards...G. Hodgson
F. L. Parsons...Forwards...Logan
W. Laidley...Defence...G. Ritchie
R. Foss...Defence...C. Colville
L. Walters...Goal...F. Carline

ST. THOMAS' LOSES GAME TO DIOCESAN

Friendly Game of Basketball Was Exciting.

BETTER FORM SHOWN.

Students Won Closely Contested Battle by 18-10 Margin.

Last evening in the High School Gym, the local Anglican Theologs. staged a fast game of basketball with the young people's Association of St. Thomas Church.

This exhibition match proved a very great success. From the initial to the final whistle the two squads worked hard for a victory and up till half time the results of the play were very closely balanced, with the advantage for the East-landers, although not in score. The visiting players outclassed their opponents in team work considerably but proved very poor shooters. The students on the other hand had a great bulwark in their captain, Fred Norman, who seems to be possessed with a marvellous accuracy of throwing the ball into the basket. No fewer than eight points were obtained by his skill in winning free shots. Norman's men have improved a great deal during the past few days, and intend to put forth a determined fight with the various teams of the co-operating Theological College.

The score was 18-10 for Diocesan College.

The line-up was as follows:
St. Thomas: Wheeler...Defence...Hatcher
Farley...Lemesurier
Smallridge...Centre...Cameron
Davis...Forward...Norman
Robinson...Egg
Referee—Davis, Wesleyan College.

LAW UNDERGRADS TALK AND EAT

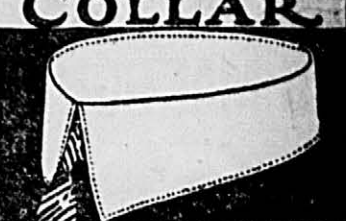

"Get Together" Dinner at Union Last Night Big Success.

Last night the Law Undergraduates Society made a somewhat novel innovation when they staged a combined dinner and business meeting in the Union. About sixty undergraduates and guests were in attendance and all voted the affair a delightful change from the usual listlessness of an Undergraduate Society meeting. After the excellent refectory provided had been disposed of, the President, W. D. Lighthall brought up some of the more pressing items of business including the election of a class hockey representative, J. F. Chisholm being unanimously elected to act in this capacity. The President then broached the subject of participation in the 1921 Annual and a somewhat lively discussion followed. T. M. O'Halloran expressed himself as being in favor of a less pretentious form of Annual this year and suggested that the "Daily" might see its way to running some kind of an illustrated supplement in the nature of a year-book, thus minimizing the very heavy expense. After discussion the matter was put to the vote of those present, the majority signifying their desire to support the Annual in the same form as in other years. B. N. Holtham was elected to represent the Faculty as Law Representative at the meeting being held at R.V.C.

M. J. Hayes then suggested in the most tactful way that the practice followed in other years whereby the freshmen years provided a banquet for their seniors, was one that might be advantageously revived. This suggestion was received somewhat diffidently by the freshmen present, but H. H. Kavanagh anticipated their acquiescence somewhat by proposing, amidst laughter, a vote of thanks to the freshmen for their generosity.
Prof. H. A. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Prof. I. Mackay and the President of the Laval Law Faculty were the guests of the evening, which proved a most successful one. The informality of the proceedings was particularly noticeable and these combined dinners and business meetings promise to be exceedingly popular and cannot fail to assist in promoting that spirit of unity and good-feeling so necessary and so noticeable in McGill's Law Faculty.

MANDOLINISTS' ANNUAL TRIP TO MACDONALD

Were Shown Splendid Time by Mac.

MADE BIG HIT.

Ladies Were Heard to Remark on Accomplished Artists.

Macdonald College has a certain number of red letter days in its calendar, and one of these is the day the McGill Mandolin Club plays for them.

The club left Bonaventure Station at 5.15 nearly leaving Mr. Peate behind, he arriving at 5.14. Do you know it was the first train members of the club have ever been on which arrived on time.

St. Anne's is no mean town, both houses there having electric lights. They also have street lights, but where the streets were nobody knew. It seemed there was nothing but slush, slush, and then some.

We reached the village at last and must say if Sir Wm. Macdonald himself were alive to-day, he would have nothing to be ashamed of. Then we reached the dining room and had a whole table for ourselves. The club went into supper hungry and an afraid they left in the same condition. One may be able to exist on calories, but they leave a sort of empty feeling around the stomach.

The concert began at 7 o'clock and they liked it so much they invited us to come again. The programme was as follows:

Mandolin Club—Avalon; Hold Me. Violin Solo—Mr. Harry Balon; accompaniment, Mr. E. Baesen—Handel Sonata; Just Like a Gypsy.

Mandolin Club—Selection; March. Cello Solo—Mr. H. Elliott; accompaniment, Mr. E. Baesen; Meditation; Your Eyes Have Told Me So.

Piano Solo—Mr. Adney; Russian Rag; La Veeda.

Vocal Solo—Miss Alma Jackson; accompaniment, Miss Louise Weible.

Mandolin Club—Whispering; Apple Blossom Time; March.

God Save the King.

One look at the programme and there is no doubt the concert was good. Shall we tell you how good? If you insist. Little need be said about the selections of the club. They were only encores three or four times, so they must have been fair, we might even say good.

And then came Mr. Balon. One old gent who had strayed in by mistake, said he had read about Beffitz, and if he played no better than Balon he must be pretty good.

Mr. Elliott made a name for himself at Macdonald by his accomplished playing. He was informed — he told us to keep this a secret — that even if the club could not come to Macdonald again, they would be only too glad if he could give them a recital. When Mr. Adney played his Russian Rag, one young lady was heard to remark, "I was going to Montreal to hear Rachmaninoff play on December 11th, but this is good enough for me." We think Mr. Adney received a few extra smiles, and that is why he gave the encores which they demanded.

Personally, we don't think Mr. Morgan-Powell has ever heard Miss Jackson or she would not now be at McGill. She received an offer to stay in St. Anne and lead the choir, but was forced to refuse, as she has an offer as understudy to Emma Cae.

The club finished as soon as they could, due to the young ladies in the hall looking as if they were lonesome. Then they learned something about Macdonald — the girls had to be in their rooms by 8.0 p.m. The boys at Macdonald were evidently afraid of McGill's superior charms, as they had the concert on Wednesday evening and the young ladies are free on Saturday. We will never forgive them, because a more beautiful bunch of women we have never beheld. This is no exaggeration, as many of the club will tell you.

We returned to Montreal at 10.00 p.m., and then we went to Walton's. Don't think the dietitian at Macdonald would like it, but we ate more than calories.

And so ended that glorious day. May all our trips be as successful.

FOUR AMERICAN COLLEGES TO FORM NEW LEAGUE.

Formation of a "Big Four," composed of Dartmouth College, Syracuse University, University of Pennsylvania, and the University of Pittsburgh is being urged here. The only drawback at present is the arranging of a football contest between Dartmouth and Pittsburgh. Syracuse, Pennsylvania, and Pittsburgh, now meet in regularly scheduled games.

F. J. Crolius, former Dartmouth man and well-known football official of Western Pennsylvania, has mapped out a schedule for next year which he thinks would fill the bill. His schedule, covering the last three Saturdays in November, follows:

First Week—Pittsburgh vs. Pennsylvania, Syracuse vs. Dartmouth.

Second Week—Pittsburgh vs. Syracuse, Dartmouth vs. Pennsylvania.

MARITIMERS MEET AT THE HALL TO-DAY

To Complete Arrangements for Dance.

5.30 P.M.

R. V. C. Members Are Requested To Be Present if Possible.

Final arrangements for those Maritime Men going home for the holidays will be decided upon at a meeting of the Maritime Club in Strathcona Hall at 5.30 p.m. to-day.

This meeting is general and every member is urged to be present. It has been customary in the past to secure passage in the same train by reservation, so all men could go home together. The proposal to be brought up to-night is that the good old custom be continued.

As the question of the joint Western Maritime Dance, which has been granted by the Council, is to be debated and considered, as well as the matter of transportation to the Maritime Provinces, the members of the Club from the R.V.C. are also asked to be present. The dance has not yet been assigned a definite date, and further details cannot be published until it has been; in the meantime, however, many small points can be cleared up.

The executive expects every one on deck at 5.30 without fail at the Hall.

Doings Elsewhere

There is and has been a great deal of talk around the campus about the possibility of a Masquerade Dance. We see from "Varsity," Toronto's undergraduate paper, that great plans are being made for a Masquerade to be held in Hart House.

Evidently McGill undergraduates are not the only ones interested in masquerades.

We also notice in the "Varsity" that the Students' Christian Association of the U. of T. is holding a financial campaign. Part of the funds received are to go to local expenses and part to the Medical Dental College in connection with the West China University. The total objective is $6,500.

The University of Saskatchewan is not a laggard when it comes to skating. In "The Sheaf," dated November 17, we find that their rink had already been flooded several times, and good ice was expected within a couple of days.

The executive secretary of the University of Washington announces a freshman class of 2,083, forty per cent. of whom are women. Business Administration is the largest college in the university, with Liberal Arts a close second.

University of California boasts the largest enrollment on record in a single class. More than 1,200 students are registered in an undergraduate history lecture course.

Gate receipts of $70,000 was the result of a Stanford-California intercollegiate football game. Some tickets were sold in San Francisco at $75 and $100 each.

Queen's University yell was originated by a special yell committee on October 9th, 1891. It is in the Gaelic language. Translating "Oil thig na banrighin gu brath," we obtain two words, "Queen's Forever."

On Saturday, November 27th, Dartmouth defeated University of Washington in a scheduled Rugby game. The game was held in the new Washington Stadium before a crowd of 30,000. The final score was 28 to 7.

AN EVENING DAY-DREAM (By A. Nightmare.)

It was midnight on the ocean, Not a street car was in sight; The sun was shining brightly, For it rained all day that night.

We walked along a country road, In a city dry and dusty, And piling through the awful mud, Sure made our axes rusty.

We came upon a farmer's house, No dwelling could we see; The busy farmer ploughed his field, An idle man was he.

'Twas a zero day in summer, The rain felt just like glass; A barefoot boy with shoes on, Stood sitting in the grass.

We asked him for some water, He brought us wine instead; "Miracles will never cease," The deaf and dumb boy said.

MEETING OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB

In Strathcona Hall at Eight o'Clock To-Night.

INTERESTING LECTURE.

Capt. Phillips, Griffintown Boys' Club, on "The Underprivileged Boy."

To-night at eight o'clock the Social Service Club will meet in Strathcona Hall. A lecture on "The Underprivileged Boy" will be given by Capt. Phillips, director of the Griffintown Boys' Club.

The club has been extremely fortunate in securing this experienced social worker to give the first of the series of monthly lectures. It is arranged on similar topics. These meetings are open to both men and women, and no student should fail to attend.

The Social Service Club is one of the newer University organizations. A few enthusiastic workers formed the club in the fall of 1918. It was then under the supervision of the McGill Y.M.C.A., but last fall it broke away from this Association and became a separate society. It is now wholly and absolutely a student organization. The Council and the Corporation have both ratified its constitution.

The main objects of the club are as follows: To give an opportunity for students to understand human nature and to know themselves; to arrange for lectures on Social Service topics, to be delivered by prominent speakers; to act as a clearing house through which students desirous of giving voluntary service may be connected with opportunities for the same, in the Social Service work of the city; to organize and carry on any particular piece of Social Service work as may seem wise from time to time. Now that this club has become an approved University organization, it is the duty of every interested student to take an active interest in at least one of the departments of the club's work.

A trip, or possibly a number of trips, is to be made to Bordeaux Jail in the near future. These trips may be made by any interested students. It is hoped that trips to other institutions will be made as well.

One of the club's major activities at the present time is a club for boys. This has been made possible through the generous support of the Ivery Settlement. Two rooms were secured in the Children's Hospital on St. Antoine Street, and they have the use of a gymnasium in a school nearby. About thirty boys attend regularly. These boys have elected officers from among their number, and are encouraged to control their own activities as far as possible. Experienced workers are in charge of the rooms four evenings a week, while the gymnasium work is under the supervision of a capable physical director on a fifth night.

This club is worthy of much more general support. The meeting is open to both men and women, and it is hoped that a large number will attend to-night's meeting.

obstacle race and ski dashes will be held. In the afternoon the scene will be shifted to the jumps at Cote des Neiges, where the intercollegiate jumps will be contested. McGill, although defeated last year, should score a victory this year as we have a majority of our point-winners back with us this year as well as several new men already well known to the skiing world this year.

As soon as the season opens in earnest arrangements are made whereby the club will have a representative on the mountain practically every afternoon to give instruction to new members and to help in any way other members desiring assistance.

The Montreal Ski Club jumps will again be open to the McGill Club and as a result every one will have an opportunity to perfect himself in this line.

The team to be chosen to represent us at Dartmouth will be picked by a series of elimination contests to be held in all branches such as racing, jumping and proficiency. The winners of these events will compose the team that goes to the U.S. and that meets the visitors here on February 25th and 26th.

Plans are also being made for week end trips to the Laurentian Mountains. Any members who went on similar trips last year will testify that they are really worth while and the source of much pleasure. The mountains give experts a chance to show what they can do.

All the club needs now for its activities to start is the weather. Given a few inches more snow the members ought to get in a lot of practice before the holidays.

BOSMAN DESCRIBES AFRICAN SCHOOLS

Graduate of Capetown University Sketches Student Life and School Sports.

The difference in the way sports and various athletics are handled is one of the main distinctions between the Universities of South Africa and those of this country, according to V. Bosman, graduate of the University of Cape Town, South Africa, and now assistant in chemistry.

"Sport is carried on entirely by the students in the University of Cape Town," says Mr. Bosman. "There are no professional coaches. The captain of a particular club, together with his committee, controls all the activities of his club, in six or seven teams as the case may be.

"Sport presents not only a physical side but also a moral aspect. It becomes a game of ideals, and it is hoped that those ideals which are developed on the sports field will play a prominent part in the everyday life of the students.

"South African Universities, owing to the conditions existing in the country, are able to encourage a more general education than are those of the United States. A great deal of the student's time is taken up in doing outside work in connection with different sporting clubs, such as Rugby, cricket, tennis, hockey, etc., or the various societies, such as debating literary, philosophy, scientific, medical, magazine, etc. For this work he gets no credit or pay, but he does it for love of the University and the interest of the institution.

"All Universities in South Africa have self-government. A students' representative council meets once a month, and controls all sport, societies, social entertainment, and deals with all difficulties arising with regard to the student body. The council stands for the interest of the students in general. It has complete power in such affairs. Between this council and the faculty there exists a definite understanding.

"Last year at the University of Cape Town a course in Kaffir languages and one in Afrikaans was established owing to the direct efforts made by the student council in approaching the Senate on the subject.

"As far as the academic side of the South African Universities is concerned, the graduate school's work is unfortunately done at a great disadvantage, owing to the lack of literature and the fact that many departments, especially during the war, suffered from being understaffed. To-day University education is the talk of the day in South Africa. Great efforts are being made and people are optimistic that within a short time the Universities will be carrying as good records as those in this country and in other parts of the world."

OLD SCOUTS' SMOKER FOR DECEMBER 9

Second Function of Club Since Reorganization

IN THE UNION.

Smoker Last Year a Decided Success and Similar Function Now Should Go.

The second social function of the Old Scouts' Club is to be held on Thursday, Dec. 9th. It has been arranged to hold a smoker in the Union on that date, and all old scouts are invited to attend.

Good smokes, eats and an interesting programme, what more could any member want! All you are asked to do is to be present, and you can rest assured that your evening will be profitably spent. Any ex-scout who is not a member but might consider joining will be welcomed with open arms.

This annual smoker is becoming a regular event in the history of the Club. Last year it marked the first step towards the organization of the Old Scouts. Those who were fortunate enough to attend will recall without much difficulty the excellent entertainment, eats and smokes. J. S. Bieler, who is in charge of the arrangements for the smoker, seems to think that though last year's affair was a humdinger, the party next Thursday eve will go it one better. All interested are asked to keep this date open and be on hand at this annual smoker. More dope in the "Daily" later!

NEW GRAND.

Scenes in Hades, said to rival even the most fanciful of Dore's famous drawings, have been reproduced on the screen in Norma Talmadge's latest First National starring vehicle, "The Branded Woman," which is being shown at the New Grand Theatre to-day and for the balance of the week.

Because of the elaborate nature of the sets called for in this motion picture, which was adapted by Anita Loos and Albert Parker from Oliver D. Bailey's well known stage play, "Branded," [Hugo Ballin was engaged to design them. The result has been an artistic triumph.

In addition to beautiful interiors for a private house in Paris and the Ritz Hotel, a fashionable boarding school for girls up the Hudson, the library and other rooms of a wealthy New Yorker's home are some remarkable scenes in India.

The scenes of the Far East reveal an open market place and a slave-block, where Norma, as the heroine, is sold at public auction, with donkeys, camels and natives in picturesque costume lending a touch of "atmosphere."

But most remarkable of all are the allegorical scenes in Hades. One of these sets, which represents a dream of Norma's, wherein she imagines herself dragged down by Society into a hideous whirlpool of slime and filth, from which she is rescued by the man she loves, was filmed in a huge pool discolored and apparently filled with horrible creeping creatures like the "silly" things that crawl with wings in "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

So hideously realistic is this pool into which Norma plunges in a costly and beautiful costume, that the other members of the cast and the "extras" playing the roles of unfortunates caught in the river of lost souls, hesitated to enter the water until Norma herself plunged in.

Other features round out the bill.
